If there is anything of beauty or of worth in this, the Bitter-Sweet of 1939, it is not due to the ability of those who worked so hard to create it but to their deep earnestness.

FOREWORD

In this Bitter-Sweet, we, the staff of 1939, have endeavored to give you a summary of the most important events and activities of the past year. This Bitter-Sweet is not the staff's book, nor the book of the senior class. It is the Bitter-Sweet of the Pleasant Lake School. May its value increase day by day as the years roll away.

D E D I C A T I O N

We, the senior class of Pleasant Lake High School of the year of 1939, dedicate the "Bitter Sweet" to our commercial instructor, Mr. Noble Thompson. Mr. Thompson revived and put forth a great effort so that our class could publish an annual.

Mr. Charles Gilbert is a life-long resident of Steuben Township and one of the best-known farmers of Steuben County. Although Mr. Gilbert did not graduate from a high school, he attended Tri-State College at Angola. Mr. Gilbert is serving his first year as trustee of Steuben Township.

Mr. Willis R. Roberts is a native of Jackson Township and has been a resident of Pleasant Township for the past ten years. Mr. Roberts graduated from Flint High School. After graduating from high school, Mr. Roberts attended Tri-State College, North Manchester College, and Indiana University. Mr. Roberts has served as the County Supt. for the past three years and has shown himself very capable.

Mr. Arthur Ruhl spent his early life in Hoagland, Indiana. He graduated from Hoagland High School and International Business College of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Mr. Ruhl has lived in this community since 1931. Since that time he has created quite a number of friends. This is his first year on the school board.

Mr. O. W. Fee is a graduate of Pleasant Lake High School. He attended Tri-State College after he had graduated from high school. He took a teaching position in Franklin Township in DeKalb county and taught there for fourteen years. He then went to Ball State College and graduated with a B. S. degree in 1929. He taught at Waterloo High School for five years and came to Pleasant Lake and has been on the Pleasant Lake faculty for ten years. He received his master's degree from Indiana University in 1935. Mr. Fee has done much in building up Pleasant Lake's school system.

Mr. Freman Clark is another DeKalb county boy that came north to find fame and fortune. He was born in Franklin Twp. DeKalb county but he has been a resident of Steuben township for the past fifteen years. He is a graduate of Hudson high school. This year Mr. Clark was presented with a certificate from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as the best muck farmer in this section of the state. Mr. Clark has served on the school board for two years.

Mr. Clarence Chrysler first saw daylight in Nevada Mills, Jamestown Township. He has been a resident of Steuben Township for the past eighteen years. Mr. Chrysler graduated from Angola High School and attended Tri-State College. This is his first year on the school board. Mr. Chrysler confesses his weakness is fishing.

Mr. Weir Griffith is the custodian of the school building and school grounds. Although this is only Mr. Griffith's first year at the job he has shown himself quite capable of managing the position well. Mr. Griffith is a graduate of Pleasant Lake High School.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The school year of 1935 ushered into Pleasant Lake High School twenty-seven green (and I do mean green) freshmen. These inexperienced students were Hazel Baird, Mary Ellen Brooks, Madge Cook, Virginia Erwin, Jayne Griffith, June Hartman, Jean Hawes, Evelyn Hoyer, Lynn Huffman, Lois Kelley, Jack King, Lorene Lash, Allen Leslie, Richard Matson, Florence Parks, Rose Marie Penick, Edith Reecer, Harold Reinoehl, Irene Renner, Edna Rowe, Delores Seeman, Helen Sweeney, Milburn Thompson, Sarah Thompson, Harold Tritch, Joyce Tuttle, and Marjorie Walsh. During the year, Merwin Roberts, formerly of Waterloo High School, came to join the rest of us greenhorns and to remain for the rest of his high school days. Opal Thrush also enrolled in our class, but she remained but for a very short time. Most of the students had spent their grade years in Pleasant Lake School.

The freshman year was spent in getting acquainted and accustomed to high school ways and habits. There were times when we all felt like the truly underclassmen. But I am told that every one must pass through these embarrassing moments in order to have the honor of graduating from this fine and respected high school.

The sophomore class of '36 and '37 was composed of practically the same class mates. The students who left were Jack King, who later joined the C. C. C. Camps; Lois Kelley, now Mrs. Carl Wilder; Allen Leslie, who also married, Delores Seeman and Edna Rowe, who left us to attend other schools.

I'm sure that that year found us a little more refined, but I'm positive we lived up to our name of "silly sophomores."

At the latter part of the year we were sorry to have Edith Reecer leave us to continue her high school days at Ashley. Mary Ellen Brooks left us to enter school at Scott-Center. Other students who took their names from our class roll this year were Hazel Baird, Virginia Erwin and Lorene Lash.

And then came the year of the "jolly juniors." And as the saying goes "the more the merrier," four more classmates came to join us. These fortunate people were Helen Coon, formerly of Monroeville High School; Esther Erwin, Salem High School; John Grill, Battle Creek; and Wymond Wilson, Flint High School.

This was the year that things really began to happen.

First, there was that grand performance, "The Green Light," our junior class play. This being a mystery it received many ahs', ohs', and laughs from the audience.

BITTER-SWEET

One evening during our Junior year that will never be forgotten was the Junior-Senior Banquet at the Auburn Hotel on April 4, 1938, and afterwards the show "Happy Landing." We hope that this night has a place in the memories of the members of the class, who were then Seniors.

This was also the year we received our class rings. This was another chance for the class to disagree, which has always been one of our weaknesses. But I'm sure we were all satisfied when we received them.

The next year Pleasant Lake saw an improved class of dignified seniors (we hope). John Grill did not enroll in our school this year, but transferred his studies to Hamilton High School. We were sorry to have him leave as he possessed a fine personality and art talent.

His absence left only twenty students to graduate from P. L. H. S. in 1939. Only nine of the graduating had started their school days at Pleasant Lake. Eleven having enrolled in later years.

As has always been the custom we received our senior class pictures this year, having them taken at Cron's Studio at Fort Wayne. Late in the afternoon we were entertained by Crons at a Theatre, which was showing "Three Loves Has Nancy."

We enjoyed another trip to Fort Wayne, when visiting various institutions, which was connected with the course of Social Relations.

We chose "Spring Fever" as our Senior Class Play.

It has always been said that our class has a very hard time of hearing the second bell, in the morning and at noon, which means "Quiet." We wonder if this is true. We can't seem to remember that there is supposed to be a second bell.

We chose Mr. Becker for our class sponser all four years that we were in high school. We all agree that he should be given much credit for having put up with our antics for such a long time. He directed both our class plays, and all the seniors are deeply indebted to him in many other ways.

During our senior year we also revived the "Bitter-Sweet." The Bitter-Sweet was the name of the school annual which was last published in 1919. It has created quite a lot of interest. It is our hope that those who will follow us will keep it alive in the years to come.

We the seniors of 1939, being of sound mind and body, do hereby wish to make this our last will and testament.

I, Madge Cook, will and bequeath my ability to chew gum in Social Relations to Glenna Hill.

I, Helen Coon, will and bequeath my shyness to Laxine Wood.

I, Esther Erwin, will and bequeath my ability to argue with the teachers to my brother, Wilbur.

I, Jane Griffith, will and bequeath my ability to skip school to Mack Van Auken.

I, June Hartman, will and bequeath my black hair to Agnes Meek.

I, Jean Hawes, will and bequeath my stubbornness to Dale Grambling.

I, Evelyn Hoyer, will and bequeath my freckles to Ira Parks.

I, Lynn Huffman, will and bequeath my ability to play basketball to Toby Libey.

I, Richard Matson, will and bequeath my ability to date girls to Richard Fuller.

I, Florence Parks, will and bequeath my love for the Wilsons to Shirley Gramling.

I, Rose Marie Penick, will and bequeath my typing ability to Shirly Collins.

I, Harold Reinoehl, will and bequeath my vocabulary and intelligence to Roberta Smathers.

I, Merwin Roberts, will and bequeath my position on the basketball team to Harvey Carper.

I, Helen Sweeney, will and bequeath my popularity with the boys to Marilyn Lepley.

I, Milburn Thompson, will and bequeath my ability to get into trouble to John Clark.

I, Sarah Thompson, will and bequeath my ability to yell to Jane Ann Libey.

I, Harold Tritch, will and bequeath my love for the freshmen to Roland Light.

BITTER-SWEET

I, Joyce Tuttle, will and bequeath my ability to dance and sing to Roberta Lockhart.

I, Marjorie Walsh, will and bequeath my giggle to Esther Sweeney, Louise Ishoff, and Winifred Fee.

I, Wymond Wilson, will and bequeath my height to Max Deetz.

We, the senior class of Pleasant Lake High School, Pleasant Lake, Ind, will and bequeath our more rare privileges to the juniors, our knowledge to the sophomores, and our dignity to the freshmen. To the faculty of Pleasant Lake High School--peace and quiet on our departure.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

While we were walking down a street in New York City our attention was drawn to a quaint, little shop crowded between two large buildings. Above the door was a sign which bore the inscription, "Madam Olskie"--Fortune Telling--Past, Present, and Future. Although we do not wholly believe in fortune telling we were intrigued at the thought of looking into the lives of our friends many miles away. Opening the door we entered into a dim lighted, mysterious room. One end of the room was veiled from our eyes by a black, velvet curtain. The only furniture in the room was a small, odd looking sofa on which we were seated. Suddenly we were startled by a movement of the curtain and the next instant "Madam Olskie" stood before us in full gypsy array. She addressed us in a slow, halting voice, "You wish your fortune told?"

We asked if we could look into the present lives of our friends with whom we graduated in the year of 1939 from Pleasant Lake High School.

She told us to cross her palm with silver and she would make our wish come true. After we had done this she ushered us into a small room behind the curtain. On the table set a large crystal globe. Setting down at one side of the table she asked us to be seated across from her.

Madam Olskie then instructed us to remain very quiet and gaze into the crystal globe. Then she crossed her hands above the globe and waved them dramatically. All the while she was softly muttering some strange words.

As we breathlessly gazed into the crystal, a haze slowly formed, then gradually it faded away showing a scene which at first we could not distinguish, but it steadily became more clear.

A room is revealed which looks like an office. Yes, it is a very expensively furnished office. A young man sits at the desk busily trying to dictate to his private secretary, who is none other than Evelyn Hoyer. She completed a business course at International College in Fort Wayne and was very fortunate in obtaining work with her former classmate, Harold Reinoehl. Harold is very busy trying to answer the many telephones that are continually ringing, and instruct several of his employees, all at the same time.

Quickly the scene changes to a gay night club where a popular orchestra is being featured. This orchestra is being financed by Harold, who, when on vacation, becomes the featured trumpet player.

As this scene fades away into the mist a school-room comes into our vision. That room seems vaguely familiar--why, it's Pleasant Lake's biology room. There is a class now in session and the teacher is Esther Erwin. The children are laughing over some witty remark that Esther has just made. Isn't that just like Esther? Back in our good old school days she was always making remarks, which although seriously intended were received as uproariously funny to us kids as to the teacher.

And now there comes into our view a green front store. My, oh my! What a contrast is this we see! Red against green! Three little red-headed boys come running out of the store yelling at the top of their voices, "Mamma and Daddie had a row; Mamma and Daddie had a row: Mamma is going home to Grandmother Tuttle; Mamma going home to Grandmother Tuttle." My, oh my! What's this modern generation coming too?

A ball game seems to be the center of interest now, why a big league ball game? We see no one whom we know. The shortstop makes a marvelous catch and the crowd is simply going wild. As he turns to throw the ball back to the pitcher we see the full view of his face. As you all probably know by now, it is no other than Lynn Huffman. By the way, on his uniform, we see the big letters of the Detroit Tigers.

Here's a scene all of us movie goers are familiar with, a football game. Harvard is playing, the game is now over and Harvard is the winner. Over on the sidelines we see some of the fans congratulating Coach Merwin Roberts. The team, through Roberts brilliant instructions, has become a tough team to beat.

Ah, after all these exciting games, we now see a quiet domestic scene. Did we say quiet? Well, not always. You know, anyone with the temperments of Marjorie and her John, are sure to have a few spats now and then. However, from the looks of this scene the couple always make up and are very happy and contented. A little girl now comes into the picture and is she mischievous? Must take after her mother.

BITTER-SWEET

What is this we see now? It seems to be an ocean. It is! We pass quickly over its bounding waves and a large city in a foreign country comes into view. On examining closely we see it is London, England. Now we see a door in a large office building. On it in large letters is "American Ambassador." Inside the office sitting at a large desk, very busily engaged with some high officials is Harold Tritch. He was known as Tritchie in high school. Almost instantly a door opens and in bounds two little girls, "Jane" and "Ann" are their names. His high school romance must have finally caught up with him.

Back across the ocean we go to that noted city, Washington, D. C. Before us is the capitol building. Congress is just in session. A young man stands before the Senate arguing against a bill which the President has just proposed. No, we're not mistaken, It is Wymond Wilson, United States Senator from Indiana. He has taken his charming wife, the former Florence Parks to Washington to show her the sights while he is busily engaged in his occupation.

We certainly are doing a lot of traveling, for now we are in Chicago, at the large broadcasting station W. G. N. A popular fashion program is now on the air, with the lovely Ann Jordan, the fashion expert, who we formerly knew as Sarah Thompson.

Now we enter a large building in Fort Wayne, where we are ushered into a beautiful, elaborately decorated office. This is the office of Helen Sweeney, the well-known interior decorator. From the looks of the office and of Helen's charming gown, we can see that she has been most successful.

This small town looks very familiar, it resembles Angola, in fact it is. We come to a little white house, which is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wier Webb. Mrs. Webb's maiden name was Madge Cook.

A beautiful, but small cottage now comes into view. A poet might have had this very place in mind, when writing of an ideal home. This is the home of Jayne Griffith. Jayne writes poetry, not for money or fame, but just for her very own pleasure.

The scene switches now to a farm not far from Pleasant Lake. The home of Mrs. Hartman and daughter June. June hasn't become famous, but she has an excellent job in Angola and it is rumored that she soon will be married.

What's this we see. Rose Marie is in Hollywood, but not as an actress. She has at last fulfilled that long--long desired dream to meet Nelson Eddy in person.

Who is this young man walking down the main street in New York? Happily singing "I'm from the city, the Great Big City." He enters the New York Time's Newspaper Building and goes into the editors office. Bernie Thompson a news editor? Oh, no! He wants thrills and excitement. Bernie is only the New York Time's most daring reporter. He always gets his story.

BITTER-SWEET

A mist begins to gather in the bowl and to obliterate the scenes from our eyes but not before we see Dick Matson engaged as a stunt flyer for one of the largest fairs in the country. As this scene gradually sinks from sight, Madam Olskey says, "Cross my palms with silver, see your friends fifty years from now." Alas, we had spent all of our money and must get back to our own occupations, which is the keeping of an orphan home for homeless dogs. We have never made much money at this job but we have the satisfaction of seeing that the poor, homeless dogs are provided for and do not suffer from want.

On December 14, the senior class under the direstion of Mr. Becker presented to the public the play "Spring Fever." The play took place on the campus of a small college and the plot centered around a rich young girl and a poor boy both in love with each other. Their troubles kept the audience in laughter along with the excitement of an explosion at the proper moment. The cast of characters was as follows:

Howard Brant, a senior in Brookfield College	Wymond Wilson
Ed Burns, a chemistry student	Milburn Thompson
Vic Lewis, an art student	Lynn Huffman
Lou Herron, a journalism student	Evelyn Hoyer
Mrs. Spangler, the landlady	Marjorie Walsh
Anne Purcell, Howard's ? ?	Joyce Tuttle
Vivian George, Vic's ? ?	Sarah Thompson
Henry Purcell, Anne's father	Dick Matson
Phoebe Purcell, Anne's mother	Florence Parks
Maude Corey, Howard's aunt	Esther Erwin
Professor Virgil Bean, zoology Dept.	Harold Tritch
Dr. Dixon, President of Brookfield	Merwin Roberts

The play was greatly enjoyed by those present. Approximately $30 was cleared on the play.

The seniors wish to take this opportunity to thank the junior class for the fine trip that the juniors gave to them as a farewell gift from the school. We are sure that we will remember this trip as a fond memory for many years to come. We also wish to thank the community for their fine support of the Bitter-Sweet this year. Without your help the Bitter-Sweet would not have been.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The junior year is the time for the students to assume more responsibility and take a more vigorous part in the social activities of the school. With this in mind, the junior class, of 29 members, started the school year. Their first activity was an amateur minstrel which they gave at the Hallowe'en festival and again for general assembly. All members of the class participated and even the boys admitted that it was fun even though they had to be coaxed to submit to having cold cream and lip stick applied to their masculine features.

With the opening of the basketball season the class sold candy, pop, and ice cream as one means of making money. January 25 they presented "Little Women" as their class play. The cast put in a lot of hard work but they were a little sorry when it was all over.

Each year it is the custom and pleasure of the junior class to entertain the seniors at the end of their school year. That is usually done with a banquet, but this year the juniors decided to attempt something new. April 15 they sponsored a trip to Chicago for the seniors and the high school faculty. This trip concluded a most successful year and the juniors sincerely hope that they were able to give the seniors a trip that they may take in their memories as they leave Pleasant Lake High School for their new trip over much longer and harder roads.

The play was received by the community with a great amount of enthusiasm and was well attended. The parts of Jo, Aunt March, and Professor Bhau were exceptionally well-played.

Much of the success of the play is also due to the coach of the play, Miss Puckett. Every player had his part well memorized and showed that a great amount of work had been spent in practice.

The money made went toward the junior-senior trip.

School opened in September with twenty-one sophomores enrolled. An election of officers was held the first week in September. The sophomores elected Robert Penick, President; Mack Van Auken, vice-president; and Ruth Tintsman as secretary and treasure.

The first sophomore class party was held at the home of James Morse in October. This party was a wienier roast.

The second class party was held at the school house, Jan. 21, 1938. The sophomore class invited the freshmen to the party. During the course of the party the sophomores initiated the freshmen.

No direct change took place in the sophomore class except the arrival of Maxine Synall during the latter part of March. Maxine was a former pupil of Ashley high school. Her presence increased the number of students to twenty-two.

The third party of the Sophomore class was held at the school house on April 6, 1939. Each member of the class had the privelege of inviting a guest. Games were played and refreshments were served.

On April first a large number of the sophomore boys and the rest of the agriculture boys toured various places of interest in the city of Fort Wayne. They visited the Eskay Dairy, Union Stock Yards, and the Journal Gazett, who kindly printed the boy's pictures in the the paper the following Sun. They also visited radio station WOWO.

On April tenth another group, consisting of girls, along with their instructor, Mrs. Husted went to Fort Wayne totake a tour through Wolf and Dessaur's Store.

The sophomore class placed three boys on the first team of basketball, namely: Mack Van Auken, Paul Sloat and Dean Colbart.

The sophomores had the honor of having in the class that star of the second team, "Robert Alfanso Penick." a left-handed pivot shooter.

Those who represented the sophomore's in baseball were: Colbart, right field; Mack Van Auken, Pitcher; and Robert Penick, third base.

The sophomore class feels that next year they will really enter their junior year fully qualified to take the responsibilities that come in the junior year. They feel that they have built a foundation secure enough to withstand any activity or duty that may fall upon them. They wish to thank Mr. Glasgow for being their sponsor.

School opened last September with twenty-four freshmen enrolled. During the term three new pupils were enrolled and two students withdrew.

The election of class officers was held in the second week of September. The officers elected were: Ira Parks; President; Willard Yockey, vice-president; Wilbur Yockey, secretary and treasure; and Max Deetz, Sargeant of Arms and Dog Catcher. The class chose their motto: "Eat, drink, and be merry," and class colors of gold and white. Mr. Treesh was elected class sponsor.

The first freshman class party was held on December 28, 1938 at the home of Jane Ann Libey. The committee consisted of Jean Anderson and Phyllis Kempf. The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments of cake, cocoa, and jello were served after which a Christmas gift exchange was held. All present had a delightful time.

The freshman class put on an assembly program a short while before Christmas.

At Christmas time the class put on a play of the story of the Otterbien home.

Early in 1939 the sophomore class invited the freshmen class to a joint party much to the regret of the freshmen, for when they arrived at the party they learned that it was an iniation party.

The last party of the freshmen was held the last day of school at the schoolhouse. The committee served ice cream and cake.

The freshman class placed six boys on the highschool basket ball team. They were Lyle Mortorff, Willard Yockey, Ira Parks, Earl Hevel, Wilbur Yockey and James Thompson. These boys showed plenty of promise during the season and will be out scratching for first-team positions next year.

The freshman class also placed two players on the baseball team last fall. They were Earl Hevel, and Lyle Mortorff. Although Lyle was small in size, he made up for that in fight. Lyle was also hard for the opposing pitchers to pitch to and as a result was walked a good many times.

The freshmen girls also helped the junior girls put on an athletic assembly program in April. This program was very interesting to the student body.

The freshmen class wish to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Treesh for being their class sponsor during the past year and for the help he has given to them.

On September 2, 1938, the first grade enrollment was twenty-six girls and boys. During the year one child withdrew from school, and four others have enrolled, making the total enrollment of twenty-nine.

The first year of a child's school life should consist of pleasant and lasting memories. The main objective of our first year, is to learn to read, and from this, we develop and cultivate the desire to read.

We learn to work, play and share our responsibilities with each other, and to refrain from selfishness and rudeness. There are many difficulties. Each child learns to read by:

Books are our friends,
How rich we are,
They take us many places,
So near and far.
And we should love them,
For to us indeed,
We'll learn much from them
If we can only read.

The second grade has had a very busy as well as an enjoyable time this year.

In reading we have not only increased our vocabulary but have learned how to read smoother and more rapidly. We have completed several books this year plus the one primer and two first grade books at the beginning of the year.

In arithmetic we have learned our hundred subtraction and addition facts plus the learning to count, read, and write larger numbers.

Some of the other things we have learned this year is to tell time, how to measure by inches, feet, and yards, and to count money.

- O -

T H I R D G R A D E

The third grade children have accomplished many interesting and worthy units of work this year. The group as a whole have worked industriously in all subjects this year.

They have read several supplementary readers besides they have done the work in their own books and workbooks thoroughly. They have improved greatly in their ability to read silently and comprehend what they have read. In oral reading they can read fluently.

They have learned the multiplication tables including the 9's also addition with carrying and subtracting with borrowing.

In language they have learned how letters and stories correctly. They have learned a few of the fundamentals of punctuation and grammar.

They have learned many new songs in music and have learned to express themselves in their art lessons.

- O -

It has been a profitable and interesting year to all of the grades.

The fourth grade students have worked diligently and progressively this year. Definite things have been accomplished in each subject. Numerous daily and monthly tests have been given. These have been found to be a great aid. In reading class much time has been spent on pronunciation and smoothness in oral reading and comprehension in silent reading. Sentence structure, punctuation, and oral expression have been emphasized in language. In georgaphy we have studied Africa; Baffin Island, Norway, Switzerland, France, the Netherlands, Arabia, and South America. The students have become acquainted with many classics this year. Some of these are: "Peter and Wendy," "Treasure Island," "Heidi," "The Christmas Carol," and "Arabian Nights' Entertainment." In music syllable reading has been the most valuable attainment. An unusual amount of skill is shown in this part of the work. The pupils' favourite study is geog-raphy.

The fifth grade pupils have accomplished to a pleasing degree several important objectives. They have tried to learn to study independently and with thoroughness; to think clearly, overcoming prejudice and superstition in beliefs; to practice basic principles of courtesy and cooperation; to appreciate the best in music, art, literature, humor, and recreation; to respect their country and its form of government; to discover interesting facts concerning the world about them; to acquire skill in fundamentals of arithmetic; to read widely and comprehensively; to increase their vocabulary in writing and speaking; to write and draw creatively; to make their handwriting legible; to understand and practice fundamental principles in hygiene and safety; to make wise use of time; and to develop special abilities.

By living creatively and peaceable in the fifth grade the members of the class have acquired knowledge and habits which should help them eventually to leave the world a better place for their having been a part of it.

S I X T H G R A D E

The sixth grade this year was exceptionally small. There were only 18 when school began in September. One of this number, Mary Belle Parks, moved to Angola in January leaving only 17 in the class.

At the beginning of the year we resolved to do our best. Our teacher urged us to learn "How to Study." This, he said would be our greatest asset in our school years to come.

We have worked diligently these past eight months and feel that we have accomplished our purpose as well as we could. We have a better command of the fundamental processes in Arithmetic, have increased our ability to spell, have a larger vocabulary and are able to read faster and better.

The seventh grade welcomed the new school year with twenty seven bright and eager students. During the school year, one boy moved away but two boys moved into the township, so the seventh grade finished the year with twenty eight.

During the first semester the seventh graders showed their metal, and gave an indication of what is to be expected from them later. They assembled the entire class into a chorus, and interspersing numbers by individual artists of the class gave a concert that won the assembly program contest. They were very proud of such a feat, especially in the light of the fact that it was their first attempt at such a program, while all the other classes had had prior experience.

The seventh grade defeated the eighth grade in a basketball ticket sales contest. They were rewarded at Christmas time by a party. The two classes met together jointly and had a gay time; Santa Claus was there, and he had something for everyone.

In March they had a party at the home of Z. A. Warring. Although Santa was not there, everyone had a wonderful time, and the refreshments were delicious.

- O -

E I G H T H G R A D E

The eighth grade started the year with an enrollment of twenty-two pupils. During Christmas vacation an additional two were added to the class making the total number of pupils twenty-four.

During the season-ticket sale of basketball tickets the eighth challenged the seventh grade to a ticket-sale contest the loser to entertain the winner. The seventh grade won the contest and the eighth grade planned a party just before Christmas. During the entertainment Santa put in his appearance and distributed gifts to all present. After a few more games, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

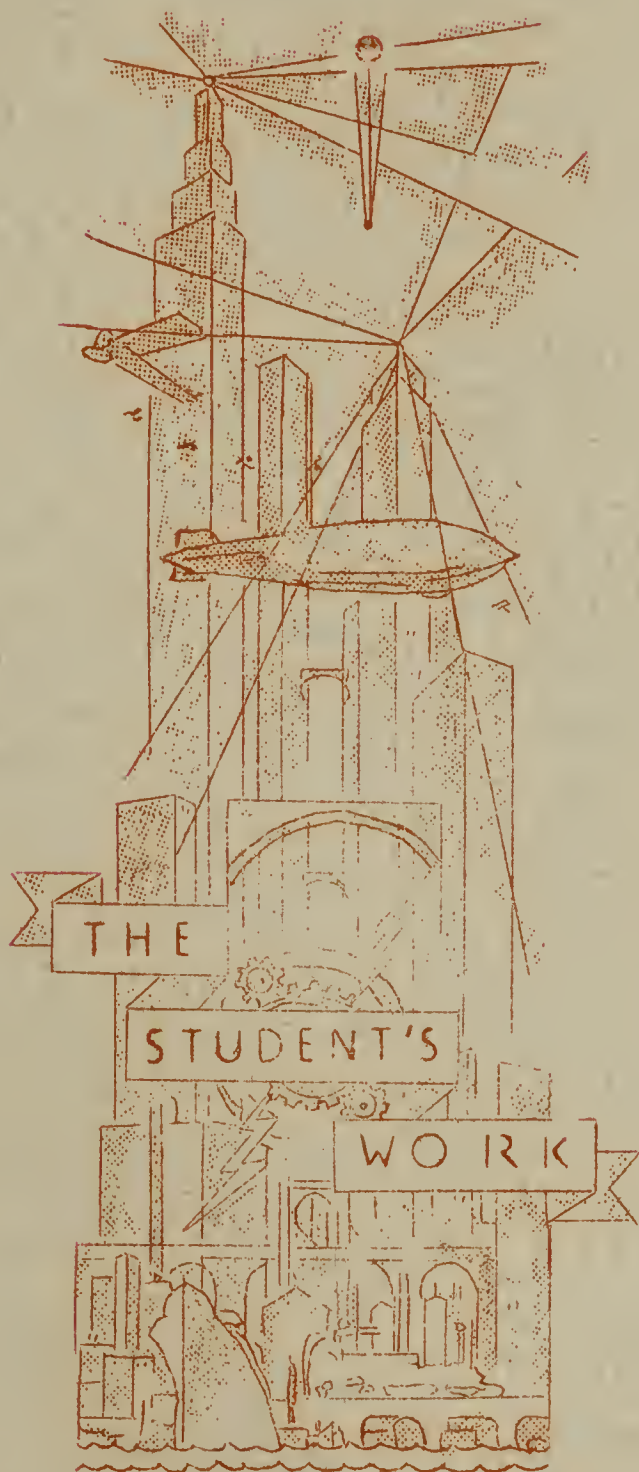

At a later class meeting it was decided that each member should pay class dues of ten cents per semester. These dues were to be saved and used when the class got into high school.

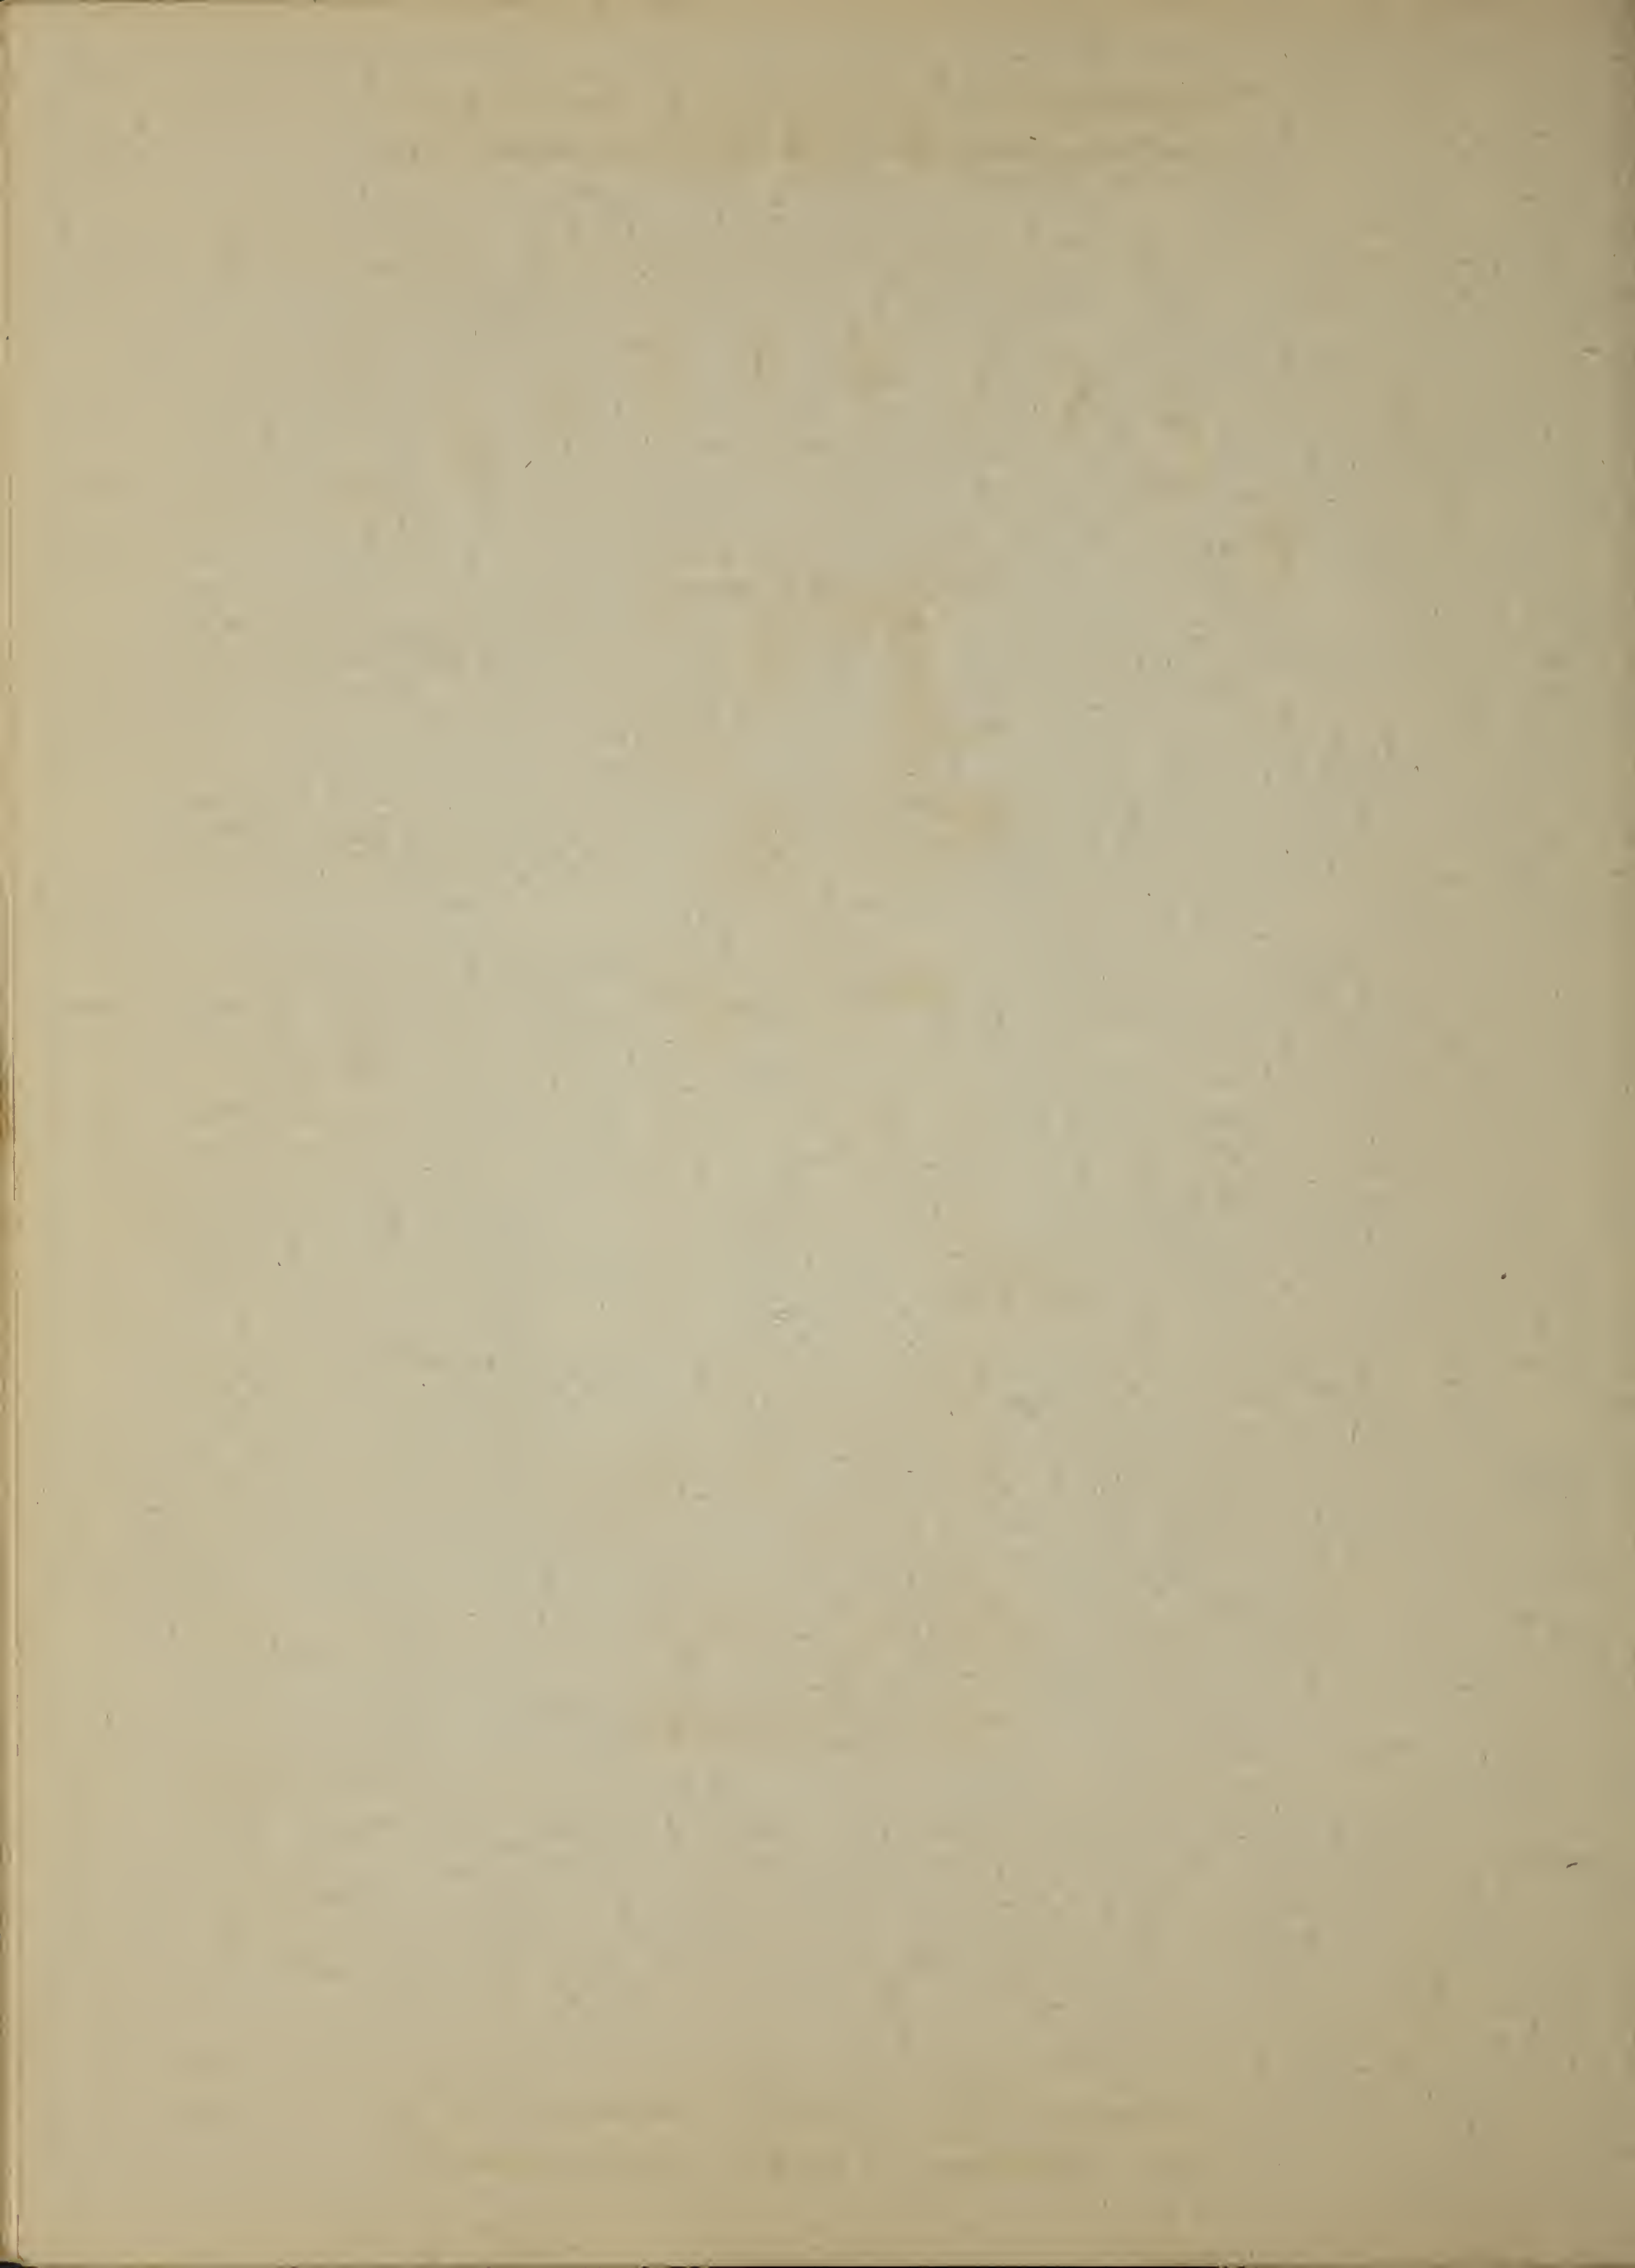

The last party of the year was a weiner roast. Each member brought his own provisions and a good time was had by all.

The eighth grade had several members on the Spartanette basketball team. This team won a high percentage of its games.

The eighth grade boys wish to thank Mr. Blomeke for taking his time and trouble in coaching them.

The enrollment in the 4-H clubs was the largest in the history of 4-H club work in Steuben Township. There were 56 boys and girls enrolled and they carried 82 projects.

The State 4-H Club Round-Up was held June 13 and 15 at Purdue University. Those attending from Pleasant Lake were: Cleo Favourite, Marguerite Anderson, Marilyn Lopley, George Myers, John Clark, Dale Gramling, Richard Miller, Stanley Carper, Virginia Kempf, and the club leaders, Mrs. Husted and Mr. Glasgow.

The Fort Wayne fat lamb show was held July 7. Pleasant Lake was represented by three pens of fives and one pen of three. Clyde Powers won sixth place and $5.00 on a pen of three lambs.

The county 4-H clubs held their picnic at Pokagon State Park on July 20. Approximately 300 club boys and girls and leaders attended. Swimming, contests, games, and the dinner were greatly enjoyed.

The week of August 15 was vacation week for club members. The club camp was held on Oliver Lake. About 250 club members and leaders enjoyed the outing. Those attending camp from Pleasant Lake were: John Libey, Jane Ann Libey, Max Ferris, Bob Ferris, Max Julian, Clair Lower, Marietta Anstett, Donna Mae Anstett, Mary Kelley, Evelyn Hoyer, Marilyn Lopley, Louise Imhoff, and Virginia Kempf.

At the county 4-H show the boys won $30, ranking second in the county in money received.

The State Muck Show was held at Walkerton in November. Pleasant Lake won $23 on exhibits. A team consisting of Dean Colbart, James Morse and Harvey Carper won third place in the Muck Crops grading and identification contest and $9. in prizes. Harvey was high scoring individual in variety identification.

George Myers, only gold medal winner in the five acre corn club, won second in district I at the State Corn Show and $1.

Steuben Township won several awards at the county Muck Show, including $5. in prizes. George Myers was crowned Junior Corn King because his yield in the five acre corn club was 105.3 bushels per acre. John Clark was Junior Potato King with a hield of 527 bushels per acre. Considerable interest was shown in the gold medal clubs last year. Four gold, one silver, and three bronze medals were awarded to members of the potato, corn, and onion clubs.

The total cash awards for the agricultural clubs is as

There was a wide-spread interest in 4-H club work among Steuben township girls during the summer of 1938. Forty-three girls were enrolled in various clubs, and participated in seventy-five projects. Of these forty-three, thirty-nine completed their work. Of the seventy-five projects, sixty-eight were completed. This average completion record was quite high and speaks well for the girls who participated in the work.

The seventy-five projects included projects in baking, canning, food preparation, room improvement, and clothing.

Steuben township girls' 4-H clubs stood high in the county. In fact, they stood highest in the county in points and awards at the annual 4-H fair. The girls received more cash awards than the girls of any other township, regardless of enrollment. They were awarded ten first places and two grand champion ribbons, besides many second place and third place awards. In canning Steuben township was awarded first place in all five divisions, also the grand champion and other second and third places.

The two Grand Champions from Steuben township were Marilynn Lepley and Phyllis Zimmer. Marilynn was awarded Grand Champion in baking and received a set of Pyrex bakeware. Phyllis earned her Grand Championship in canning and as a reward for merit received a Ball Brothers Pressure Canner. Both girls were proud of their awards and were deserving of them.

Steuben township also had a Blue Ribbon winner in the Indiana State 4-H fair. Phyllis Zimmer displayed a beautiful smock at the fair and received the blue ribbon on it.

Every girls enrolled in 4-H clubs in 1938 was well pleased with the showing that Steuben township made. They were proud of their showing and Steuben township is justly proud of them.

The Spartonian has had as its chief aim this year to advertise all school activities equally. It has also tried to bring to the people of the community a glimpse of school life and what the school has been doing. This year, for the first time in its history, the Spartonian has truly had a working editor. The paper was published the last six weeks by the staff alone, under the direction of the editor, Harold Reinoehl.

The annual Hallowe'en Carnival, held on Friday, October 21, drew a larger crowd than any of the preceeding Hallowe'en Socials.

One of the highlights of the evening was the parade of masked individuals and groups. Prizes were awarded to Mr. Glasgow for being the best masked individual; to Jean Merris and his group for being the best masked group; to Betty Thrush and Ella Ford for being the best masked couple; and to Elsie Huffman for being the worst masked individual. H.N. VanAuken proved himself to be the best bean guesser. His guess was 1025 and there were 1027 beans in the jar. He was given a cake. Mildred Ford won a box of candy when she guessed 1183 grains of corn in a jar containing 1187. The net proceeds of the carnival amounted to $70.77. This is one-third more than the year before.

All that attended the Carnival had a grand time.

THE SPARTANS

Tryouts for the 1938-1939 basketball team began the second week in October. Out of the many boys competing for positions on the team Coach Treesh selected Lynn Huffman, Merwin Roberts, George Myers, Dean Colbart, Mack Van Auken, Paul Sloat, Harold Tritch, Wymond Wilson, and Harvey Carper with various other members filling the tenth position at different times.

The Spartans opened the season by winning their first game from Salem by a score of 40 to 17. They followed this with a win from Brighton within a week.

The Spartans were very much disappointed in their third game of the season by losing to Metz in an overtime game, 24-22. After this game the Spartans returned to form and won the next four games.

The outstanding game of the year and perhaps the most interesting was the game with Fremont. The Spartans were hopelessly outclassed the first half and were trailing by nine points when the gun ended the first half. At the beginning of the second half the Spartans immediately came to life and showed what fight they possessed and when the smoke finally cleared off from the floor after the game Pleasant Lake won 20 to 22. By winning this game the Spartans gained possession of the "Dope Bucket" from Fremont only to lose it the next week to Hamilton.

The team did exceptionally well by winning fifteen games and losing eight.

Lynn Huffman first-string player of the Spartan team made more points than any other player in the county during the season. Lynn was also honored by being placed on the all-sectional team by the Steuben County Republican. Merwin Roberts ranked third in the county scoring.

The prospects for 1939--1940 basketball season are looking very bright for the Spartans. Out of a squad of twenty players only four are lost by graduation. There are several freshmen who are looking very promising for next year. In addition the second team, composed of mostly freshmen, only lost two games during the entire season and they promise to make things look plenty tough for any team next year.

The reserves can also boast of a very successful year by winning 17 of their 19 games. Their wins, were for the greater part, were won by a large margin. They lost one game to Fremont and one game to Salem. They later had their revenge on Salem by winning the third game.

T H E S P A R T A N E T T E S

The Spartanettes did not have as good a season this year as last. They won eleven games and lost eight games during the season and including one tournament game. Their greatest upset during the year was their last game with Hamilton. They completely routed the Hamilton team and won by a one sided margin of 29 to 11. Next year the Spartanettes will be handicapped by the lack of size by the loss of several of their players.

The sports activities at Pleasant Lake High School began with baseball. The baseball team this year did exceptionally well compared to other years. The team this year won six games and lost four and ties one. They tied with Hamilton to play in the county tourney and in the play-off Pleasant Lake won over Hamilton. The team this year consisted of Lynn Huffman, Merwin Roberts, Wymond Wilson, George Myers, Jr. Libey, Harvey Carper, Dick Straw, Dean Colbart, Mack Van Auken, Paul Sloat, Earl Hevel, Robert Penick, Ira Parks, Wilbur and Willard Yockey, Lyle Mortorff, James Thompson and James Mieras.

For the third consecutive year Pleasant Lake sponsored a State Corner Commercial Contest. Fremont, Hamilton, Ashley, St. Joe, and Pleasant Lake took part in the contest. The first test was given in typewriting at 9:30 A. M. Immediately following this test the bookkeeping test was given.

Following the test the teachers graded the papers and the pupils from the other schools were entertained in the gym.

Dean Wolf was master of ceremonies. A demonstration was given by the Spartonian Staff and a talk by Mr. C. J. Elson were presented. After this program the winners were announced. Pleasant Lake ranked third in typing and fourth in bookkeeping.

Next year Waterloo will hold the contest at their school. It is hoped that perhaps Pleasant Lake will rank better next year.

T H O S E S I L L Y S O P H O M O R E S

The silly, sappy, sophomores
Came to school one day
They plumb forgot about their work,
And so went out to play.

They wandered merrily about
But finally did come in
And soon discovered to their fate
That trouble'd soon begin.

They shuffled up the huge wide steps
"Hey! Gosh! Oh Golly! Gee!
They held in unison their breath
For there stood Mr. Fee.

His face was red while their's turned white
They knew not what to do
He ordered them toward his room,
"Now get you fellows, shoo!"

He slammed the door behind him
And turned himself about
He looked them straight into the eye,
And so began to shout.

"You've been in high school long enough,
At least to know the rules,
No pupils ever acted thus,
Not even in other schools!"

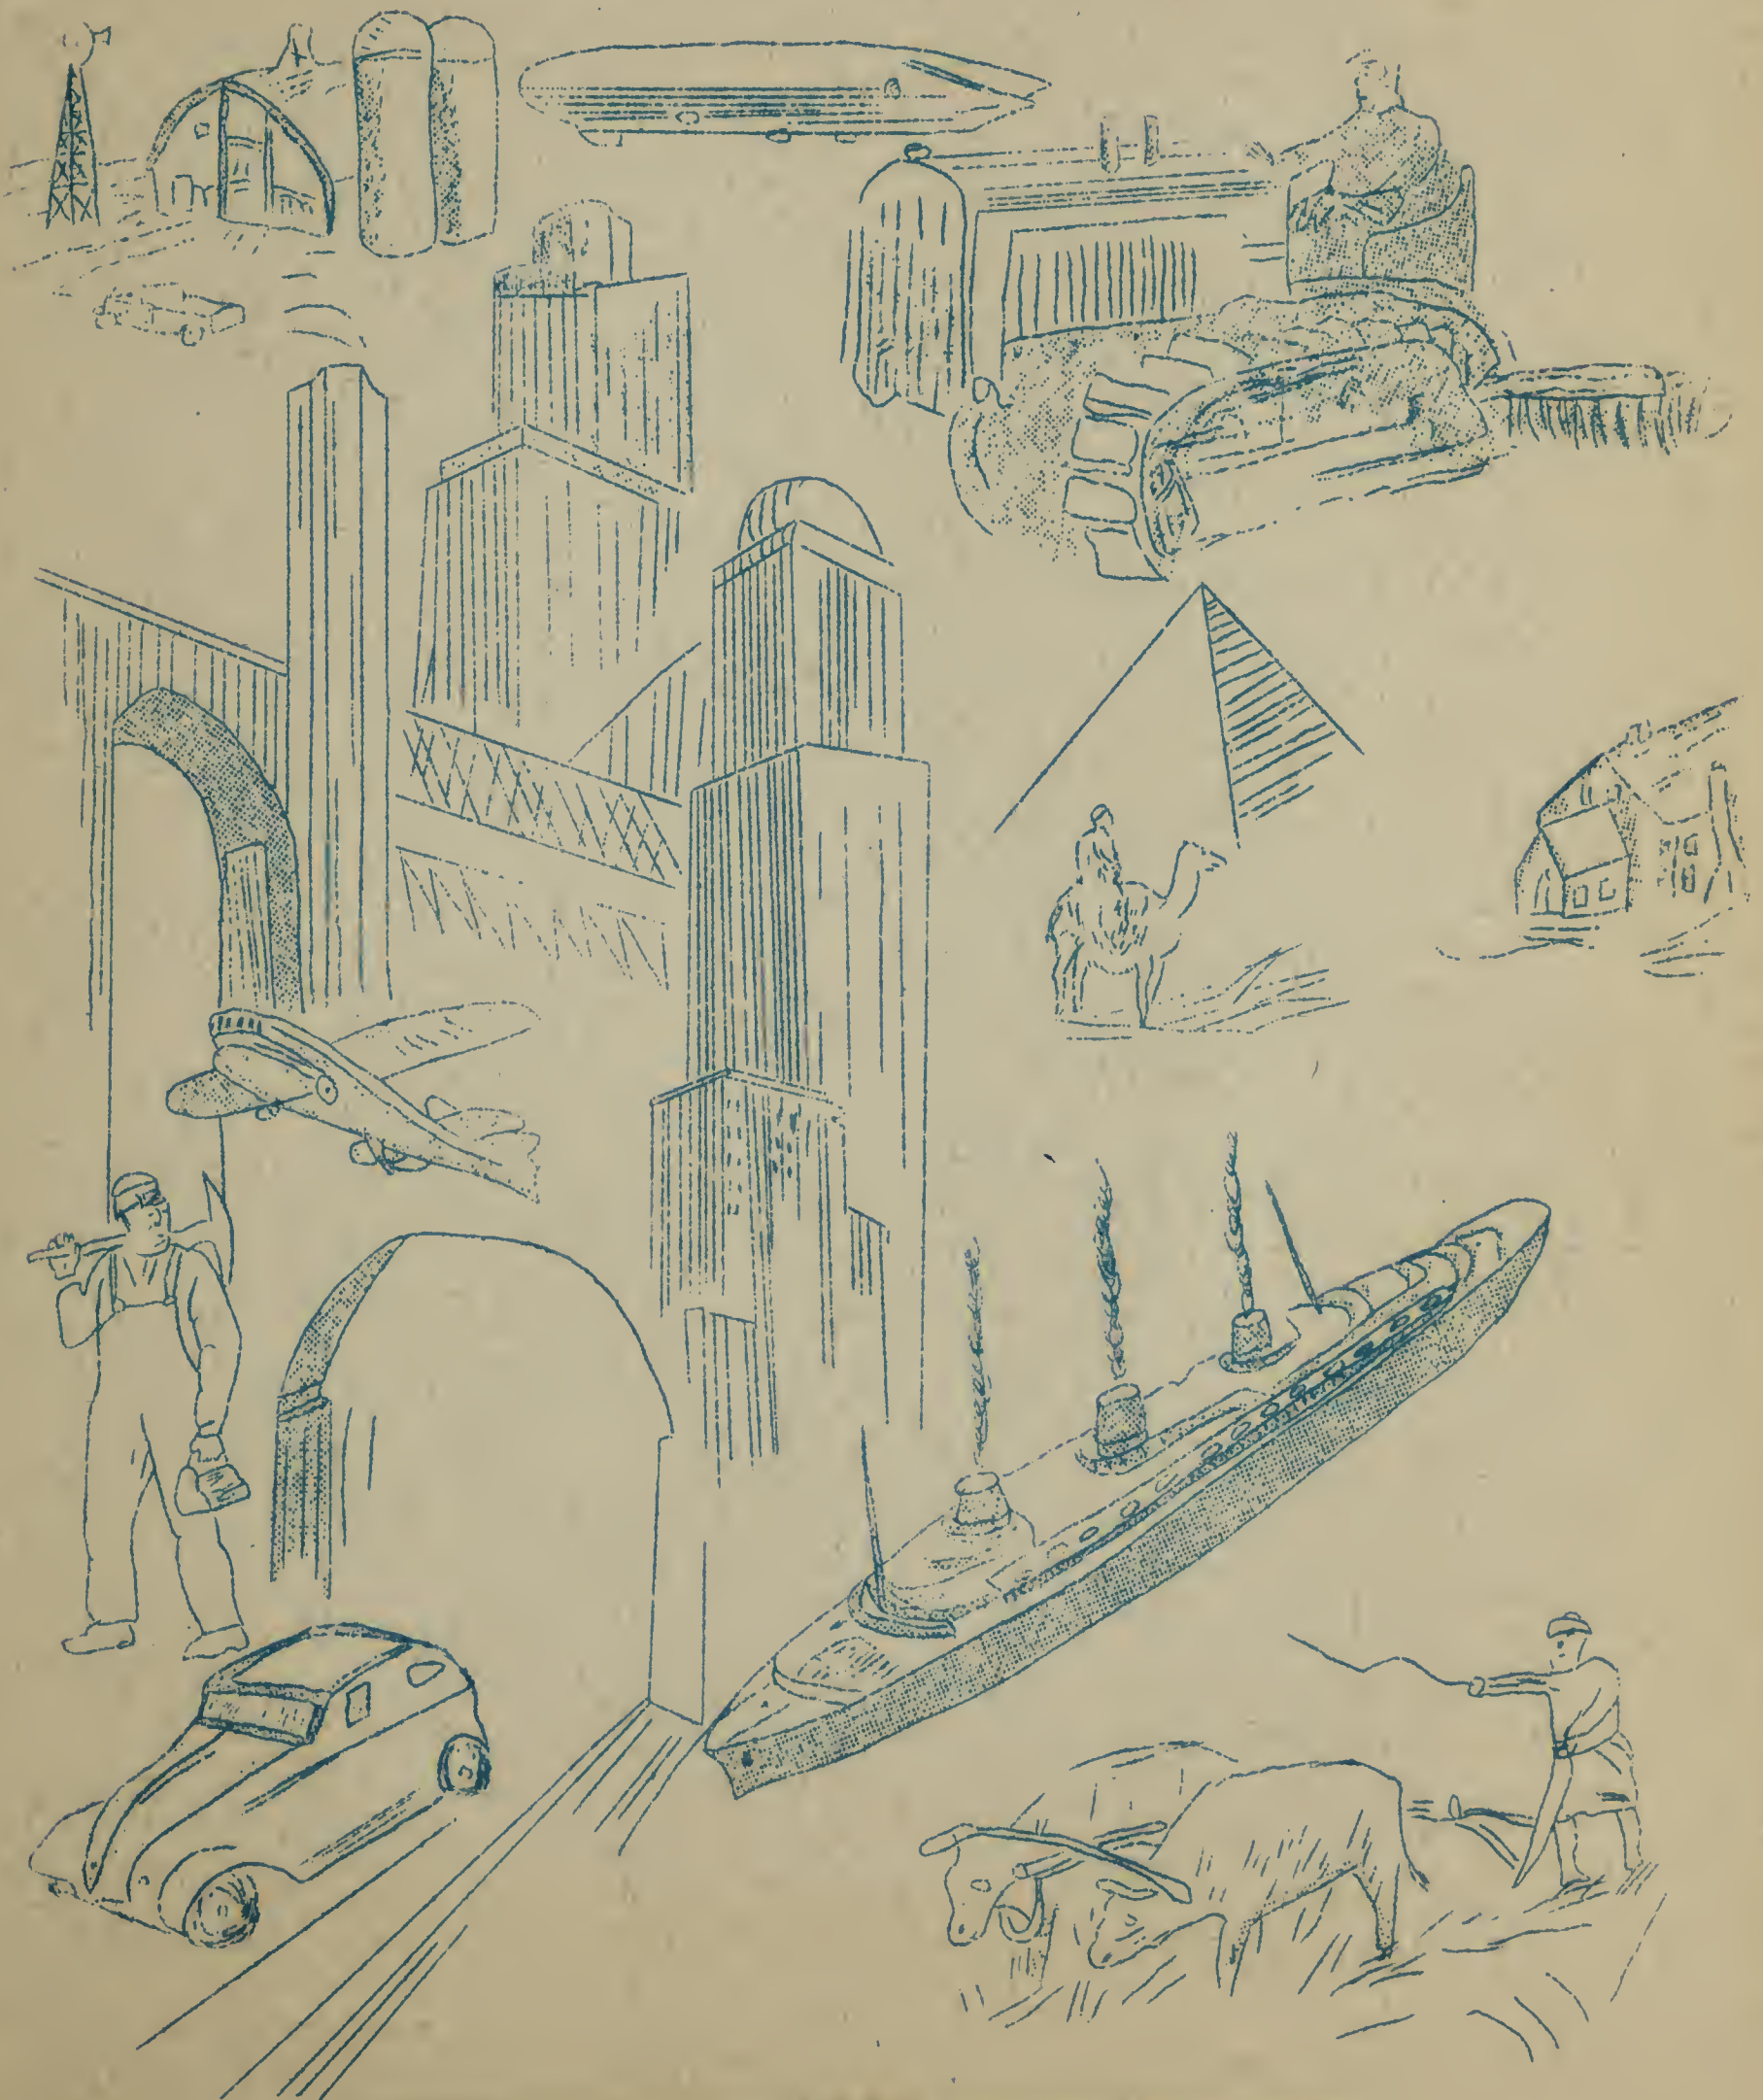

They went at once to classes
This time just like they should.
And as to skipping school again?
They declared they never would.

They're now the tops in brightness
A dumb one can't be found
For they certainly learned a lesson
When they went wandering around.

--This is an original poem composed by Ruth
Tintsman and dedicated to the sophomore class.

Our little old town is just a dot on the map,
Beside the railroad track
But her heart strings reach far over the world
To gather her children back.

Our teachers have taught, our soldiers have fought
For the truths for which we stand
And they have walked on our old streets
Who preached Christ in a foreign land.

Our sailors are treading a shining deck
With their hearts on our blue, blue lakes
O'er sunny isles of the western sea
Our silver air-wings beck.

And a tropic sun shown fierce and hot
When our marine played "Home Sweet Home"
With his heart on a little town up north
Where the lake breeze whispered, "Come."

The city has taken an endless toll
Like a ceaseless grinding mill.
And some we know will only return
To their final rest on the hill.

And some we know see only our faults
And all of our weakness too.
But deep--deep down in their innermost soul
They know we still ring true.

True to our home, our church and our God.
Though we tread old paths, as our fathers trod
Loving and living, and taking our stand
For God and home and our native land.

Though the little old town is just a dot on the map,
Beside the railroad track
Her heart strings reach far over the world
To gather her children back.

--Mrs. Erma Tintsman

Being told to write an essay on the mule, Richard Miller turned in to his teacher the following effort: "The mewl is a hardier bird than the guse or turkie. It has to legs to walk with, two more to kick with, and wears its wings on the side of its head. It is stubbornly backward about going forward."

Year after year the picture appeared, together with the description of the pants--and the price, $3.

In the twenty-fifth year of the advertisement the company received this letter:

"Dear Company: The more I been seeing them corduroy breeches, the more I got to wantin' them. If you ain't sold them yet, let me know and I will buy them. Yours very truly, Mr. Fee.
